Michigan’s Prenatal-to-Three Policy Initiative: 2020-2025

Michigan is among 14 states to receive a multi-year action grant from the Pritzker Children’s Initiative to advance a prenatal-to-three policy agenda that was developed with the assistance of communities across the state. While the country grapples with a global pandemic, policies that dismantle structural and institutional inequities are critical. Ensuring that race, income or zip code does not determine a child’s destiny in Michigan is a top priority for the Prenatal-to-Three (P-3) Policy Initiative. Let’s make Michigan a top state to have a baby and raise a child.

P3 Policy Priorities

1. Ensure that race, income or zip code does not determine a child’s destiny in Michigan.
2. Develop a statewide, cross-sector infant-toddler workforce strategy.
3. Expand enrollment in and access to high-quality child care, early intervention, home visiting and preventive care services.
4. Strengthen how families learn about and access programs and services.
5. Actively support efforts led by partners and allies that positively impact infants and toddlers and their families.

How was the Policy Agenda developed?

Over 950 Michigan families, advocates, researchers, government officials and service providers came together over nine months to create Michigan’s Prenatal-to-Three Policy Agenda. Michigan aims to increase access and enrollment in high-quality services such as child care, home visiting, early intervention and postpartum care for low-income families with children 0-3.

By 2023, increase enrollment by 25%
By 2025, increase enrollment by 50%
reaching an additional 83,000 children 0-3 living in low-income households by 2025

Michigan will reach our enrollment targets in high-quality child care, home visiting, early intervention and preventative care if we implement the following strategies:

- Identify and elevate policy changes to require implicit bias training, disaggregate data by race/ethnicity and implement equitable funding formula allocations based on that data.
- Develop a cross-sector infant-toddler workforce strategy to fill shortages and reduce turnover.
- Expand enrollment in high-quality child care, early intervention, home visiting and preventative care services by maximizing federal funding, increasing state funding and improving eligibility.
- Strengthen how families learn about and access programs and services by streamlining applications, cross-training specialists and navigators, and funding initiatives to support families in learning about and choosing early childhood services.
Who Leads this Collaborative Effort?

Michigan's Prenatal-to-Three Collaborative is now over 950 members strong. There are many family leaders and organizations across the state who contributed to Michigan's ability to compete and win this policy action grant. The P-3 Collaborative is led by a Steering Committee of over 20 groups and numerous parents, including leaders from:

- Clinton County RESA Office of Innovative Projects
- Council of Michigan Foundations
- Detroit Parent Network
- Early Childhood Investment Corporation
- Early Head Start – Childcare Partnerships
- First Steps Kent
- Flint Early Childhood Collaborative
- Governor Whitmer's Office
- Great Start Collaboratives
- Great Start to Quality
- Resource Centers
- Intermediate School Districts
- Inter-tribal Council
- Kresge Foundation
- Michigan's Children
- Michigan Council for Maternal and Child Health
- Michigan Department of Education - Office of Great Start
- Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
- Michigan League for Public Policy
- Nurse-Family Partnership
- Public Sector Consultants
- University of Michigan
- Department of Psychiatry
- W.K. Kellogg Foundation

and numerous parent leaders from communities statewide.

The Collaborative is co-chaired by:

- Matt Gillard, Present and CEO of Michigan's Children;
- Gilda Jacobs, President and CEO of the Michigan League for Public Policy;
- Meredith Kennedy, member of the Asabike coalition of the Inter-Tribal Council, parent leader and behavioral health manager;
- Denise Smith, Implementation Director, Hope Starts Here;
- Quinn Wright, member of Great Start Wayne Parent Coalition, podcast contributor, parent leader and financial advisor;
- Amy Zaagman, Executive Director of the Michigan Council for Maternal and Child Health;

and is staffed by the Early Childhood Investment Corporation

Why Prenatal-to-Three?

The first three years of a child's life are critical, a formative period that can lay the groundwork for the best possible outcomes throughout a child's life. Across Michigan, tens of thousands of families with infants and toddlers are not able to access the high-quality programs, services and opportunities they need to raise healthy and thriving children.

How to Get Involved?

Join this growing coalition and help implement a policy agenda to expand services for babies, infants and toddlers. We recognize the leaders across Michigan who are making tremendous strides on critical early childhood and maternal and child health issues. Through this initiative, we will align and support existing efforts, honoring that many leaders in Michigan have already made incredible progress. This initiative will focus on identifying gaps, without duplicating efforts, and supporting better alignment with existing efforts underway in local communities and at the state level.
